- ◆ community leaders, elders and concerned citizens

Visit our website at www.fvtc.edu/MJ

This comprehensive training conference provides diverse training topics for criminal justice professionals and the agencies they work with.

This nationally recognized conference attracts over 400 criminal justice professionals interested in the positive aspects of community collaboration. Throughout its history, the conference has focused on developing stronger relationships between tribal and non-tribal law enforcement agencies.

The conference theme, "Working Together to Serve Better" has evolved to include the improvement of working relationships with social service agencies, the court system, educators, gaming security personnel, and community leaders. By using a multi-jurisdictional and multi-disciplinary approach, individuals and agencies are able to enhance the level of services available to their community.

The primary focus of this conference is to highlight effective strategies and promote discussion on strategic solutions for working together.

Pre-Conference BJA Training

Conference attendees are also invited to attend the Pre-Conference Bureau of Justice Assistance (BJA) Grantee Training on Tuesday, November 3. There is NO FEE to attend the pre-conference training. BJA grantees with funding through the Indian Alcohol and Substance Abuse Program (IASAP) and/or the Tribal Court Assistance Program (TCAP) are strongly encouraged to use their training and travel funds to attend the pre-conference sessions and to stay for the Multi-Jurisdictional Law Enforcement Conference. See our website for more information.
